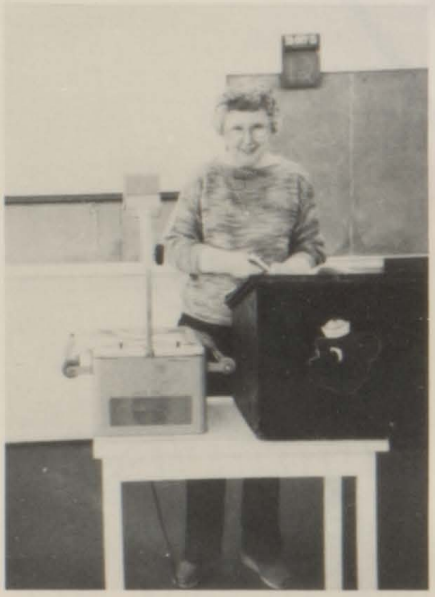
FAREWELL



"No bubble is so iridescent or floats longer than that blown by the successful teacher." Sir William Osler

After 29 years of teaching at MHS, Mrs. Widga is retiring. Mr. Harris began at MHS the same year as Mrs. Widga. "I appreciated Mrs. Widga and all of the years we worked together at MHS and I will miss that," Mr. Harris said. Two generations of Nissens have been taught by Mrs. Widga. "Her dedication to education" Mr. Nissen said, "should be an example for everybody." "I think she was a great teacher and I learned a lot in her classes," quoted Monica Hutsell, a graduating Senior. Allison Vetter commented, "She was dedicated to her students and was always there if they needed help." Mrs. Widga, we will miss you.

Staff, Administration

ABOVE: Principal George Harris and Superintendent Dr. Gene Panning are making serious decisions about next year's schedule. BELOW: Teachers take advantage of lunch break to discuss the future of MHS.

Question: Are these teachers a) leaving early or, b) staying late?
Answer: They are staying late after attending a school board meeting.

Teachers not only teach but are also students.

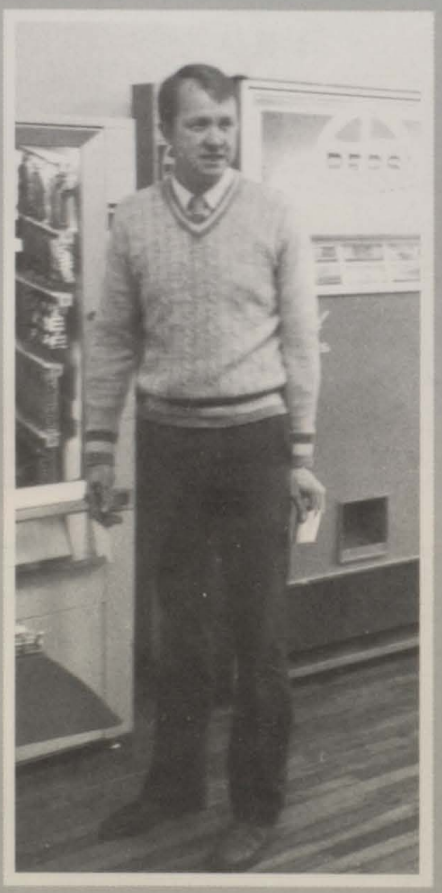
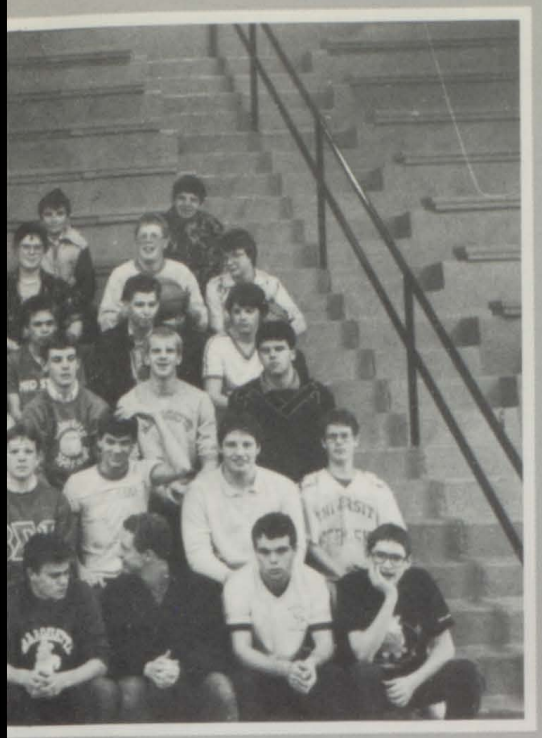
The Journalism Class works hard to beat the deadline. ABOVE: A headline in the Aurora paper tells all.

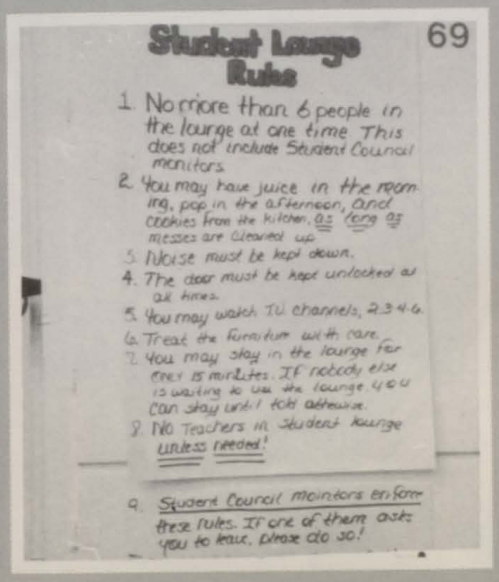


The Student Lounge and the 8-minute break bring excitement for students and Mr. Nissen — sponsor in charge of refreshments.



Subject to Change

There is no way to know why, but something about this year makes it stand out from all other years. "Just a little bit different" only begins to express the tremendous changes in schedules and classes, all the way to changes in feelings and attitudes about our future. An influx of new students, sharing classes, the Friday afternoon schedule, our eight-minute afternoon break, a student lounge with refreshments, the addition of a Journalism class, and the talk of consolidation or closing MHS all make this year significantly different — a year worth remembering. At times it is hard to feel secure and stable with all of these changes; however, it soon becomes apparent that life is never static and we need to deal with the fact that everything is subject to change.



Student Lounge Rules 69

1. No more than 6 people in the lounge at one time. This does not include Student Council monitors.
2. You may have juice in the morning, pop in the afternoon, and cookies from the kitchen as long as messes are cleaned up.
3. Noise must be kept down.
4. The door must be kept unlocked at all times.
5. You may watch TV channels 2, 3, 4, 6.
6. Treat the furniture with care.
7. You may stay in the lounge for only 15 minutes. If nobody else is waiting to use the lounge you can stay until told otherwise.
8. NO Teachers in Student Lounge unless needed!

9. Student Council monitors enforce these rules. If one of them asks you to leave, please do so!

On Friday afternoons, students have four hours to work on projects. Mr. McIntyre, Lance Jones, James Mack, Phillip VanBibber and Jacky Moore. BELOW: Phillip watches as Dara Jacobsen, Val Ruzicka, Kim Swanson, and Monica Hutsell practice a drama script.

Uniqueness Counts

Students can be victims of conformity. In a small school you might think you would find very little diversity among students. Actually the reverse is true at MHS. Whether you are into sports, drama, shop, Home Ec. or just your studies; no matter whether you are tall or short, into country or rock, drive a junker or something nice it doesn't really matter because uniqueness is what counts. At MHS we have more opportunites to try more things which brings out our real differences.

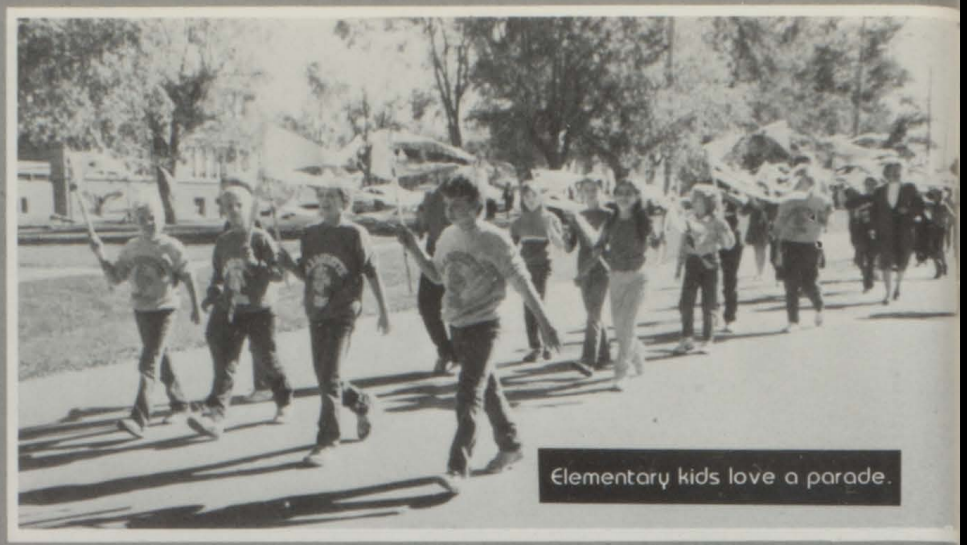
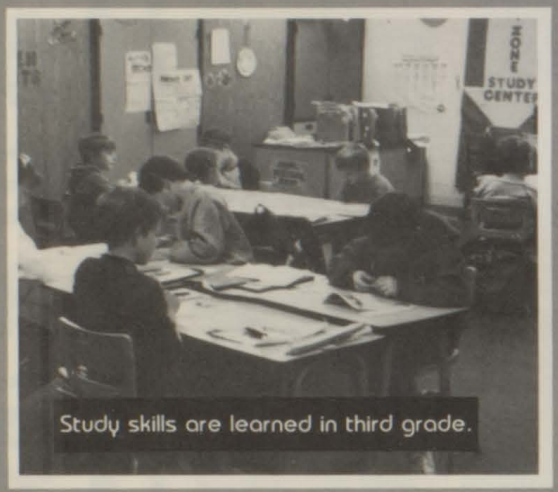
The Many Faces of the New Generation

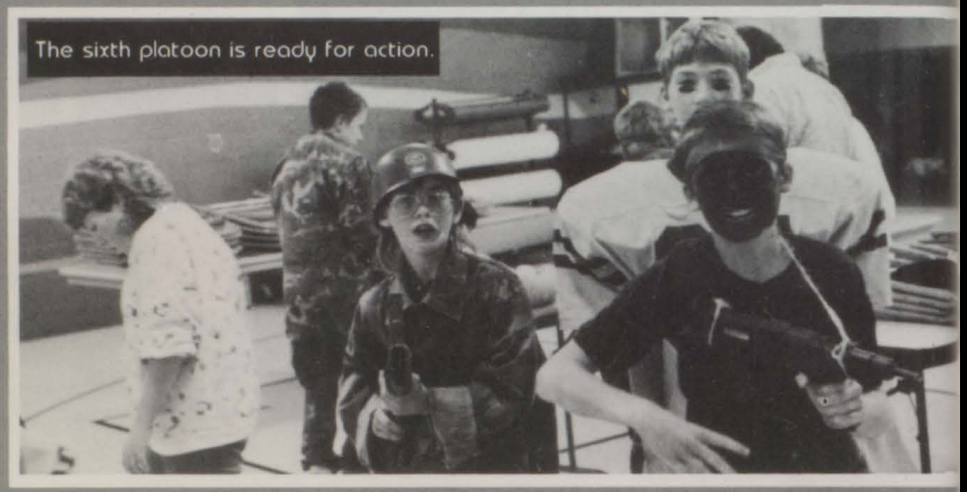
Our young people depend on their parents, teachers, and older students to help them prepare for their future. In a small school there is a closer relationship between the older kids and younger kids. Therefore, high school students have the responsiblity to keep their actions in line because they never know when the small eyes might be looking.



Elementary kids love a parade.



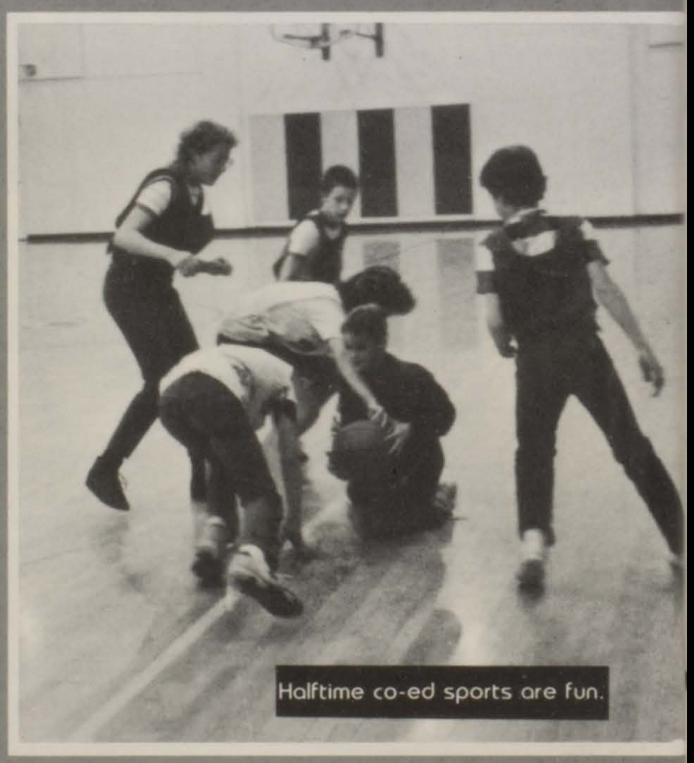
Study skills are learned in third grade.



The sixth platoon is ready for action.

The future cheerleaders of MHS show spirit.

We love food!



Halftime co-ed sports are fun.

The 1986 Marquette Cubs football team suffered a relatively disappointing season. The team this year consisted of three seniors, one junior, two sophomores, and seven freshmen. The team saw early that there would be problems filling positions. This problem forced a couple of freshmen to begin at the starting positions. Into the season a couple of weeks later, a few more changes had to be made because of injuries to upperclassmen. The problem was once again solved by having to start a few more freshmen. By the end of the year, half of the starting lineup was made up of freshmen. Even though the Cubs were unable to chalk up any wins for the season, things can only look better for next year with all the freshmen and sophomores seeing so much playing time this year. In summing up the year, the team saw that there isn't always a happy ending to every game and that losing is a part of life.

The 1986-87 Boys basketball season was a time for developing new skills. The varsity ended its season 0-16 and the Junior Varsity ended with a 1-6 record. Their only win was to Bradshaw. The four seniors will definitely be missed but with several returning lettermen, the outlook for the Cub team is promising. With a little willpower, hard work and hustle, the boys should have a more successful season next year. Coach Gilson played as many of the boys on the bench as he could this year. He usually had five that hustled and worked on defense, but if someone wasn't working, he would substitute. Our only win of the season was a very joyous one. The JV's received a third place trophy for the win at the Benedict Tourney.

Junior High Sports

A Time to Learn

The purpose of Junior High athletics is to expose Junior High students to sports, to develop their skills, and to help them decide which sport, if any, they like playing. In addition, these students learn that sportsmanship and team work go together to create a common goal — having a good time. This year, the Junior High program had only two boys out for football so the Marquette athletes played on the Polk football team.

Cheerleaders 1986-87

They Promote Pride

Cheerleaders and fans are an important part of every sporting event. Even though the boys had two losing seasons, the cheerleaders kept school spirit alive with various pep rallies throughout the year. They were an integral part of the Homecoming activities and Sponsored Parents' Night with the help of the Student Council.

We Stand Proud

Homecoming 1986 was held on October 17. Spirit Week began with Family Day followed by Yipes Stripes Day, Dress-up Day, Future Day, and Blue and Gold Day. A bonfire Thursday night fired us up for the coronation, main street parade and pep rally, and homecoming games on Friday. A dance Saturday night capped off the week's festivities. The combined efforts of the Student Council, the cheerleaders, and the junior class made this a week we could be proud of.

MHS is Alive with the Sound of Music

Two new faces replaced both music instructors from last year. Mrs. Christy Clarke was the chorus teacher and Mr. Robert Becker directed the bands. The chorus and band were joined with the Polk/Hordville group. Every other week, the students in band would travel to Polk for a joint practice. The chorus practiced together before concerts or contests. The students enjoyed this routine because it gave them a chance to get to know other kids. "It's also just nice to do something different than everyone else," said Dara Jacobsen, a student involved in both groups.

Marquette members of the Polk - Hordville - Marquette Band are: Monica Hutsell, Catherine Ferguson, Dara Jacobsen, Vickie Montgomery, Kathy Culver, Lisa Pritchett, Allison Vetter, Brad Jacobsen, Lauri Montgomery, Dustin Nissen, Jennifer Penner, Kim VanBibber, Lonnie Jones, Amy Young, Heather Brown, Richie Collins, Kenji Lentz, Jennie Mersch, Renee Petersen, Kelli Pritchett, Darci Vetter, and Jason Christensen.

We Are the Future

FFA, FHA teaches young people to get more involved in the world. It teaches how to be leaders and how to speak out for what we feel is right, this is important because we are the future of the world. The FFA is involved in many activities and contests throughout the year. A buffalo barbeque was held in February. State honors won were: Lance Jones, Swine Proficiency award; the land judging team state qualifying; and Phillip VanBibber, fifth place in land judging. The highlight of the year for FHA members was the trip to Oklahoma City for the National FHA Cluster meeting. Search contest awards by FHA members were: silver medals- L. Pritchett, A. Vetter, P. Swanson, J. Buchy, J. Blake, K. Pritchett, and D. Vetter; bronze medals - D. Cooksey and S. Archer.

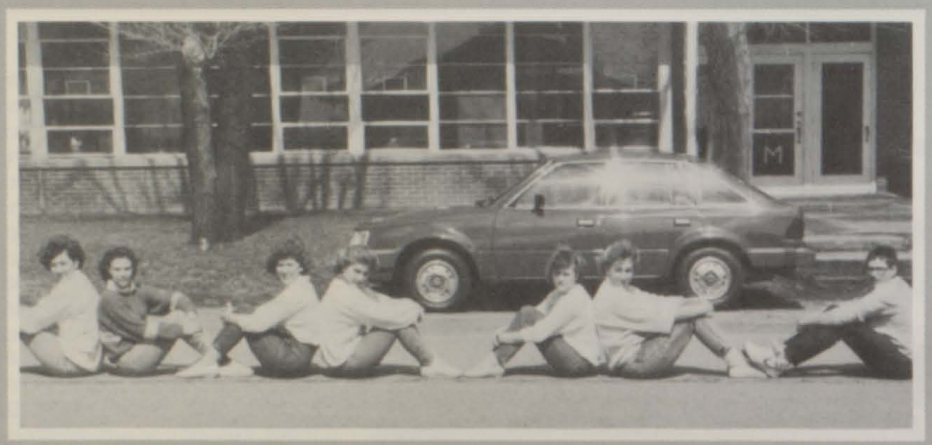
New Faces Get in the Act

A seven-month drama season came to an end on May 1 with the performance of the all-school plays. Speech and drama activities were a new experience for many this year. The Speech class began preparing for the one-act play contest in October, performing in November and December, and achieving an excellent rating. The Speech team began its season in January with contests in February and March. The end of March saw tryouts for the all-school plays. Twenty-two students particpated in the three one-act plays. Six months is an exceptionally long season, but one that many enjoyed immensely as they learned about the meaning of real teamwork, long practices, and sacrifice.



The Speech Team consisted of Dara Jacobsen, Allison Vetter, Lisa Pritchett, Kim Harris, Monica Hutsell, Jeri Russell, and Billy Mersch. Only Monica had any prior experience with Speech events. All received Excellent ratings in their area.

CRC and District One-Act Play Contest participants were: Allison Vetter, Kim Harris, Jeri Russell, Kelly Sailors, Valerie Ruzicka, and Dara Jacobsen. Their selection was entitled "A Miracle for Three."

ABOVE: Kelly Nissen wrote and sang her own part for "Four Little Words," a one-act comedy in which seven actresses try out for a bit part of four words. Members of "Four Little Words" cast relax for a few minutes before their performance.

Publications Are "Classy"

A special experiment this year was to make a class of the school paper and annual. The class learned about good Journalism principles and then put these into practice publishing three papers and the annual, meeting deadlines often by working far into the night.

Council Achieves Goals

This year the Student Council was responsible for purchasing a cam-corder and a fence that was put up around the play ground. It was in charge of Homecoming, the Christmas party, the Platte College chorus performance, ordering a new trophy case from the shop class, and opening the lounge.

Activities Make a Well-Rounded Person

Extra-curricular activities are known to increase a student's academic abilities. They teach commitment, responsibility, self-discipline, and learning to abide by rules. Everyone needs to be reminded of this when talking of a "good" school because in our small school, many activities are available to the students, and student activities' programs are an integral part of our education.

New National Honor Society members tapped in April were: (sitting) Kim Swanson, Catherine Ferguson and Allison Vetter. Pam Donlin, Dara Jacobsen and Monica Hutsell were previous members.

Special Events

Junior/Senior Banquet

We Had a Party!

Bonanza in Grand Island was the site of the traditional Junior/Senior Banquet on April 25. The Seniors were the guest of the Junior class and the faculty was also invited. The highlight of the evening was a videotape of Seniors caught in the act of being themselves.

Opening with a greeting and a prayer was Sherri Archer. After the meal, Dara Jacobsen read the '87 class prophecy and Scott Montgomery read the Senior Class Will.

Juniors Vickie Montgomery, Jill Reyner, and Teri Paup pose in the hot air balloon. The theme, "Up Where We Belong," was depicted by a 20-foot paper balloon with a backdrop of a cloudy sky. Butterflies and smaller paper balloons carried out the theme as centerpieces.

A special part of the awards ceremony was a presentation of a bouquet of flowers by the student body to Mrs. Beulah Widga, retiring after 29 years at MHS. Dara Jacobsen and Monica Hutsell make the presentation.

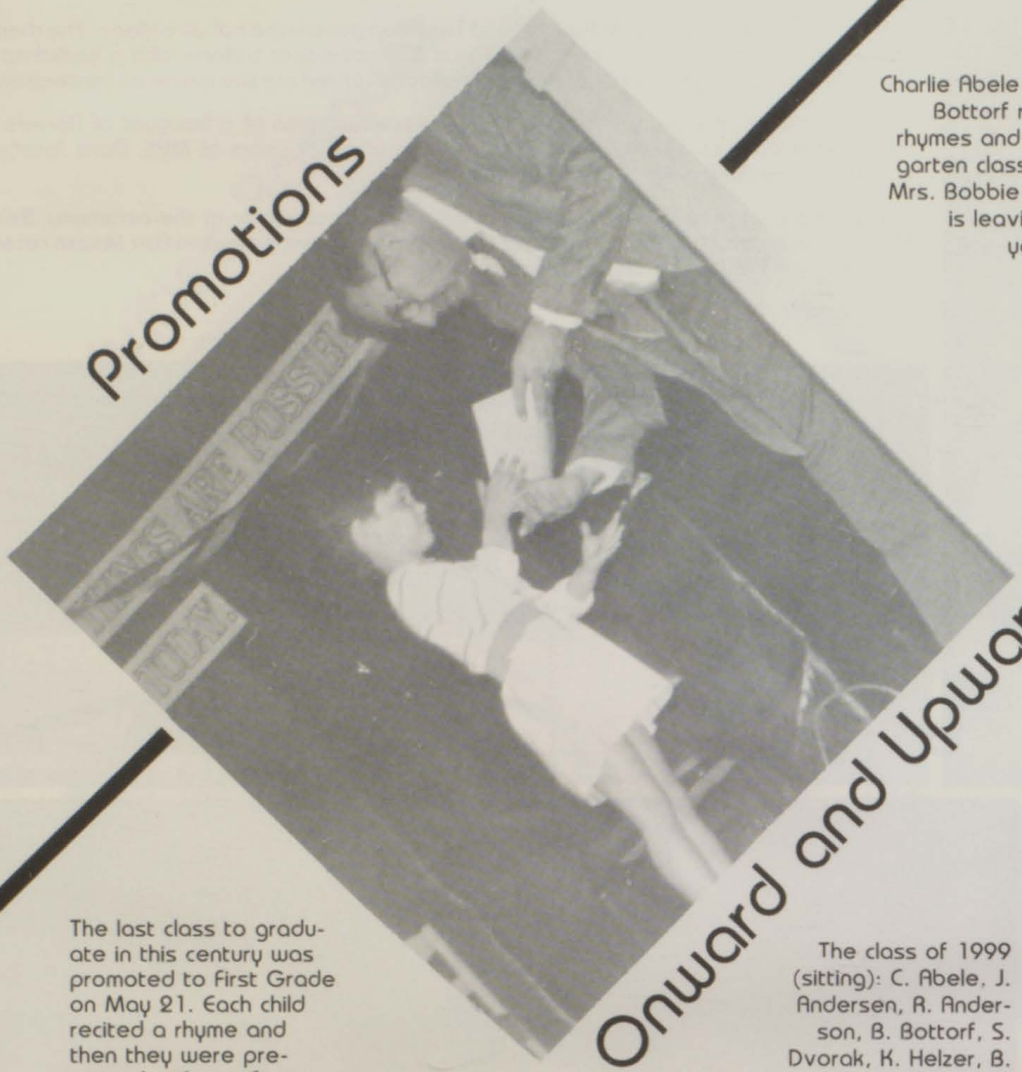
Promotions

Onward and Upward

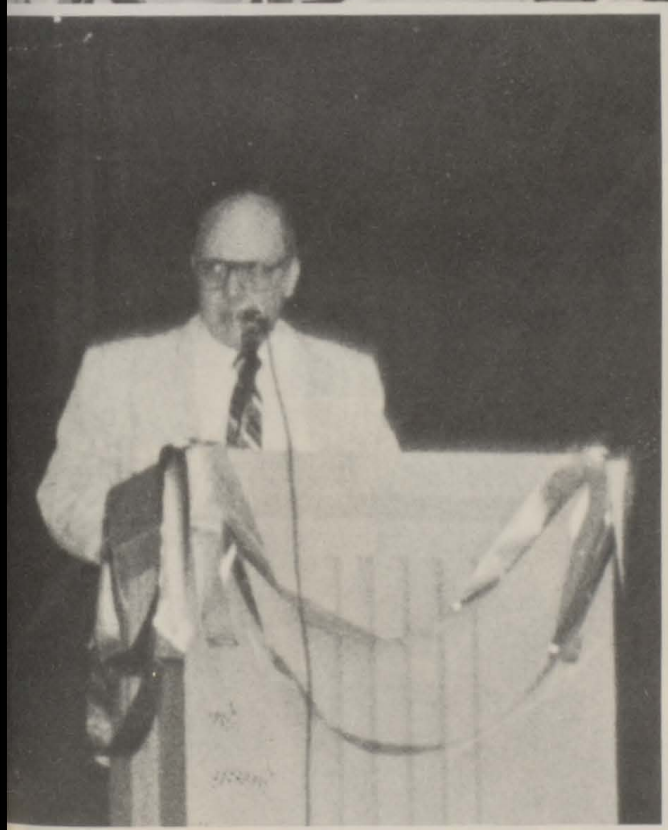


The last class to graduate in this century was promoted to First Grade on May 21. Each child recited a rhyme and then they were presented with certificates. A reception followed in their room.

Charlie Abele and Bonnie Bottorf recited their rhymes and the Kindergarten class presented Mrs. Bobbie Abele, who is leaving after 13 years, a gift.

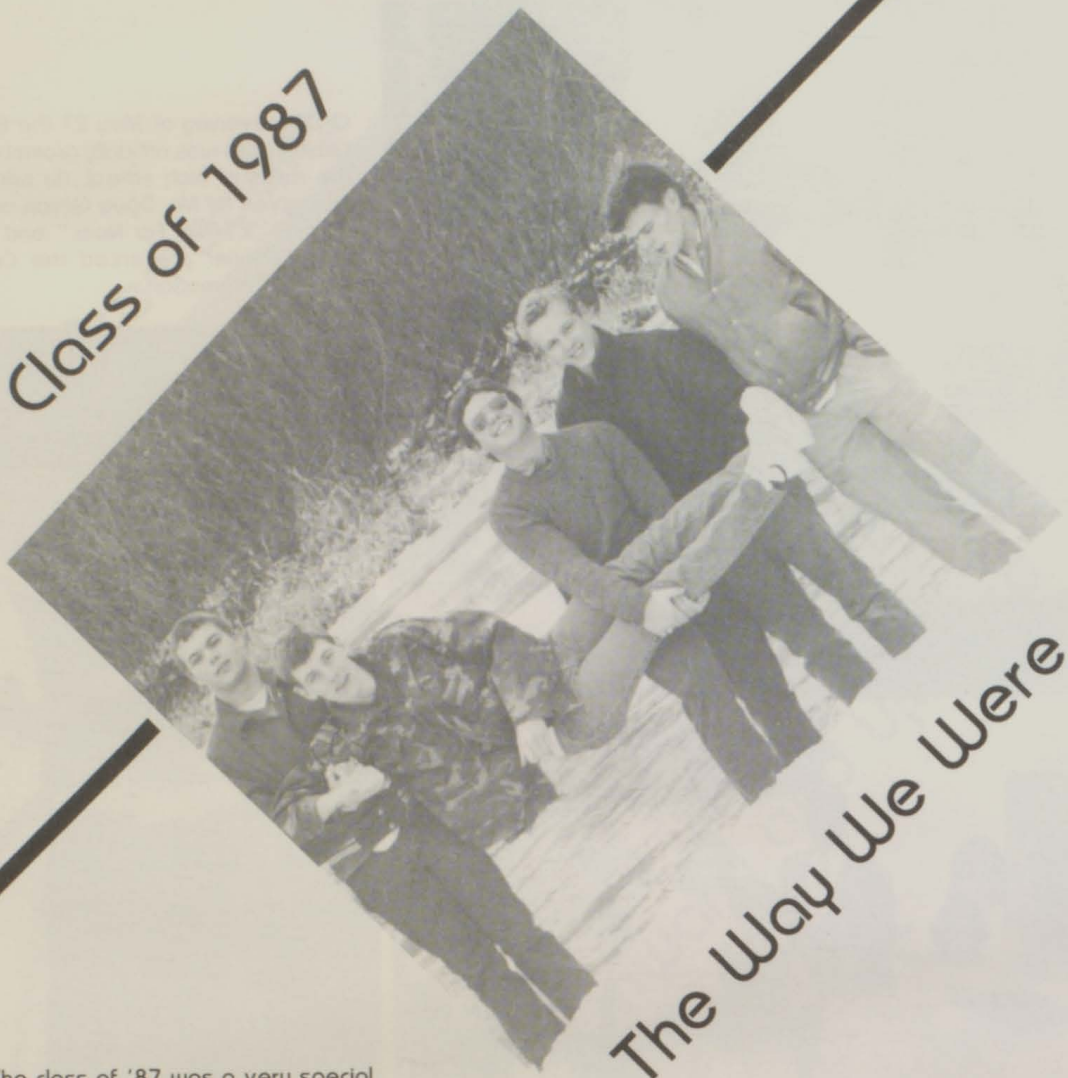
The class of 1999 (sitting): C. Abele, J. Andersen, R. Anderson, B. Bottorf, S. Dvorak, K. Helzer, B. Jensen, S. Manka, T. Mack, B. McHargue, and P. Wendt.

On the evening of May 21 the Eighth Grade class was officially promoted to the ranks of high school. An address was given by Mr. Doug Gilson on the theme, "It's Not Far Now," and Mrs. Letha Reyner presented the Certificates of Promotion.



The Junior High chorus sings "Somewhere Out There" and "Lean on Me." Mr. Harris presents the Class of 1991. Joanelle Buchy and Lonnie Jones receive their certificates.

Class of 1987



The Way We Were

The class of '87 was a very special class. Varied talent, lots of laughs, and an ability to take the bad with the good, characterize these fine people. We would like to take this opportunity to remind you of the way they were — Just a Little Bit Different.
